WICKER PARK/
BUCKTOWN

Jameson | Sotheby's
INTERNATIONAL REALTY

Northwest Tower/Robey Hotel | Architect: Perkins, Chatten & Hammond | Renovation: Nicolas Schuybroek Architects and Marc Merckx Interiors | Style: Art Deco | Opened: 1929

The Northwest Tower is one of the first skyscrapers in Chicago to have been constructed outside the downtown area. A painstaking renovation of this landmark 1929 Art Deco building has turned it into a landmark after Damen Avenue's pre-1927 name.

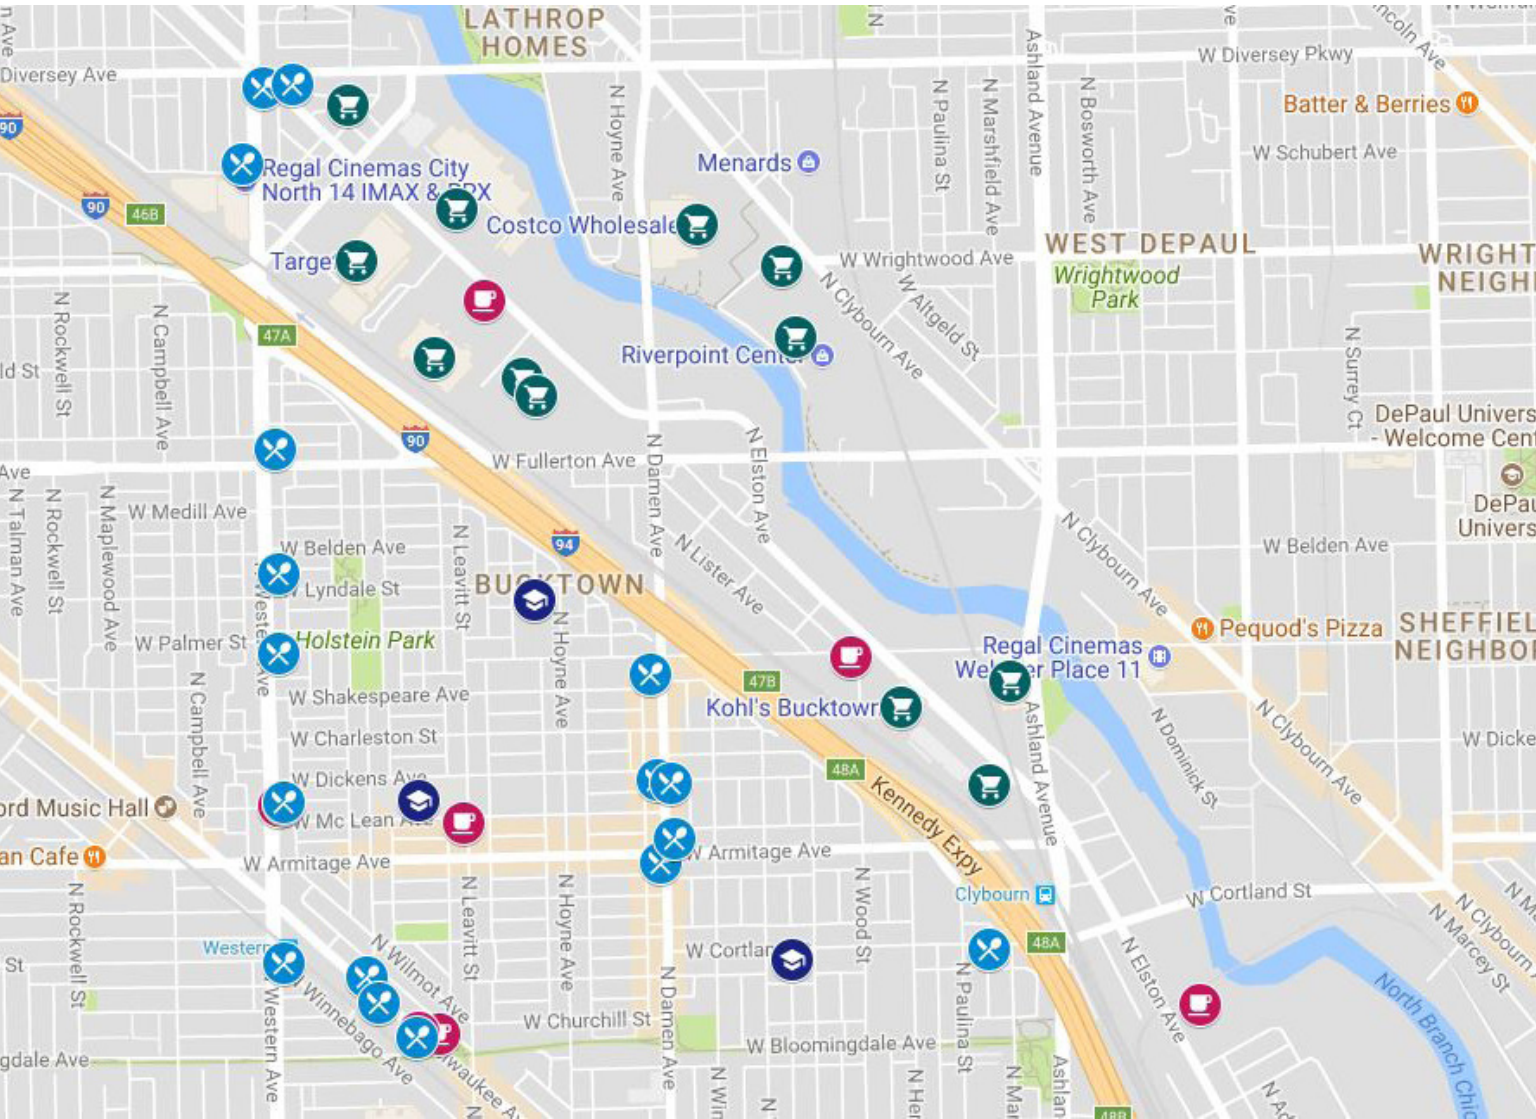

WICKER PARK / BUCKTOWN

One of Chicago's creative epicenters lies just outside downtown Chicago in Wicker Park and Bucktown. These synonymous neighborhoods are famous for live music and nightlife, chef-driven restaurants and countless art galleries — many housed within the Flat Iron Arts Building. If you have an acute knowledge of craft cocktails or an affinity for coffee, plus want to sift through records or thrifted threads, there's no better area to sip and shop in the country.

The area has become a prevailing influence on Chicago's Michelin-rated, James Beard Award-winning dining scene, boasting some of the city's most sought after tables. Wicker Park and Bucktown are also known for their palate pleasing nightcaps, like renowned brewery Piece and mixology tour de force The Violet Hour.

Along North, Division, Milwaukee and Damen Avenues, you will find an unbelievable blend of vintage shops amid independently-owned boutiques touting fashions for both men and women, and luxury home goods and beauty products. On the same blocks are nationally-recognized names in fashion, and a mix of major retail chains that have also set up shop to satisfy the on-trend crowds.
